DEDICATION

We are deeply indebted to our class advisors whose sympathetic understanding of the problems, whims, and pranks of high school students has endeared them to our hearts; whose sense of fair play has given many a despairing stumbler a chance to make good, but whose sense of justice would not allow favoring one at the expense of many; and whose encouragement has enabled us to bring school spirit into full swing this year. Each has contributed a measure of his experience to enrich our lives both during high school and beyond.

It is with sincere gratitude and appreciation for their devotion to the class of 1961 and to the welfare of all Horace Greeley students that we dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Robert Gilson, Miss Claire Risoli and Mr. Charles Taylor.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Président

Associate Managing Editor, Business
Week Magazine
Stanford University A.B., M.A.

Central School District No. 4 is administered by a Board of Education composed of five members, traditionally four men and one woman. The Board members are elected by a special committee composed of the PTA and Town Club presidents, additional members from these two organizations, and selected citizens chosen to represent the community.

The Chappaqua Board of Education often meets several nights a week and again during the weekends. Twice a month it holds public meetings, but most of its time is taken up with study sessions, trips, interviews, and executive meetings.

As described in New York State's Education Law, the Board's duties include a variety of tasks. It must determine the general educational policy and curriculum, hire teachers, buy textbooks, build and maintain schools, and prepare the budget which it submits to the qualified voters of the district each May. At the same time, the Board must see that Arbor Day and Wild Life Day are properly observed.

THE HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1961

We entered Greeley as the first class which would go all the way through the new high school. The Class of 1961 was already known for its ability to have fun; we have kept that image alive throughout our four years.

Mickey, Priscilla, Carolyn, Bob, and Dick were at the helm as we launched the first in a tradition of successful dances, "Cafe Rue de la Paix."

Our Sophomore year brought Byron, Priscilla, Carolyn, and Jo into office. The carnival was tremendously successful. Who will ever forget the exploits of that fantastic J.V. basketball team, led by "Coach" Herrmann? We started getting our wheels, and suddenly the roads spelled freedom.

It appeared as if Byron would be in for life, as he, Pete, Lee, and Mickey were elected for the Junior year. As upperclassmen, we were forced into an aura of semi-maturity. The prom, "Shangri-La," and the musical, "Shillelagh-O," were the best yet. The "college panic" began at the Katonah Conference. Carolyn and Kit went abroad under the A.F.S. program.

Then we were Seniors. Mickey, Byron, Lee, Riddy, and Mike headed the G.O., and Pete, Terry, Mary, Tom, and Dave led the class. Fingernails disappeared as college acceptances and rejections staggered in. Parties were rampant; our class "cocoa" mugs proved useful. Senior Weekend was a jovial success; "Charlie's Aunt," the Senior Play, was fun and profitable; and Senior Day will never be the same.

The time has sped by too fast; before we leave Greeley we'd like to relive much of the past four years. The class has always had a good time but it has learned more than that a perfect date requires a twenty dollar bill, a convertible, and a draft card. We won't easily forget our high school years.

IN MEMORIAM

GERARD R. TORBORG, JR., 1919-1959

Class Parent
1958-1959

Then said a rich man, Speak to us of Giving.

And he answered:

You give but little when you give of your possessions.

It is when you give of yourself that you truly give.

For what are your possessions but things you keep and guard for fear you may need them tomorrow?

And tomorrow, what shall tomorrow bring to the overprudent dog burying bones in the trackless sand as he follows the pilgrims to the holy city?

And what is fear of need but need itself?

Is not dread of thirst when your well is full, the thirst that is unquenchable?

There are those who give little of the much which they have—and they give it for recognition and their hidden desire makes their gifts unwholesome.

And there are those who have little and give it all.

These are the believers in life and the bounty of life, and their coffer is never empty.

There are those who give with joy, and that joy is their reward.

And there are those who give with pain, and that pain is their baptism.

And there are those who give and know not pain in giving, nor do they seek joy, nor give with mindfulness of virtue;

They give as in yonder valley the myrtle breathes its fragrance into space.

Through the hands of such as these God speaks, and from behind their eyes He smiles upon the earth.

THE HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1962

Our very first high school activity was an open house "sock hop" in the gym during the fall of 1958. To provide variety, we had dancing, basket shooting, and, of course, goodies!

In March of our freshman year, we had our grade-wide project, a slinky, sophisticated dance named "Latin Quarter." Singing and dancing by some of the kids proved a great success.

Under the expert leadership of Harry Lasker, Doug Burrill, Sue Cowilich, and Dibbon Cornell, our freshman year continued to roll along. In May we held our school-wide project called "Lady Luck," complete with a gambling casino and dice. Everyone loved these "games of chance," and prizes were awarded to the best gambler.

Sophomore year was a busy one. Early in the first quarter we held the dance "Teen Beat," for the entire school. We sponsored a cake sale and a student-faculty tennis match; the proceeds from these activities were given to the American Cancer Society in memory of Mr. Grafflin. A class pizza party was given after the Pelham football game. The Executive Committee revised our class code and also ran a movie for the lower grades, making a profit of $120.00, which we gave to CARE. Spring activities included another movie for the elementary school, as well as a carnival in May for the Scholarship Fund. After school closed in June, we held a class swimming party at the Mt. Kisco Country Club. Our officers, Leslie, Lonnie, Louise, Ed, and Harry were almost thrown in!

Under the leadership of Brian, Doug, Mary, and Harry, we started our junior year out right by attending a football game at West Point in the fall. We planned a winter skating party, but it was cancelled twice because the weather was too warm. Late in January our class rings arrived—at last! A few weeks later our A.F.S. drive began in the form of a foreign film festival, which was a great success. "Rough 'N Ready" was one of the many wonderful experiences of our high school career, (even though we never could locate a burro, or a safety pin that was quite large enough)!

THE HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1963

The class of 1963 has been very busy throughout its two years at Greeley. In order to raise funds, the freshman "63ers" started out their first high school year by running a hot dog stand. During the winter months we attended a college basketball game at Madison Square Garden and held a Freshman ice-skating party. During the spring season we held "Sham-Rock," which was simply a St. Patrick's Day dance. When summer and the baseball season swung into action, we attended a New York Yankee game at Yankee Stadium. As a finish to our freshman year's recreational activities, we held a swimming party at Mt. Kisco Country Club.

As Sophomores, the class of 1963 started out again with a hot dog concession for a fund raising project. Also, a few days after the opening of school, we held a school-wide dance to make the Freshmen feel at home and to honor the 1960-61 football team. Just prior to this event, the Sophomores had a swimming get-together at the new Chappaqua pool. Soon after this, we attended a football game at West Point.

A little later in the school year, all of us chipped in 25¢, and the class treasury made up the difference so we had 100% subscription to the school paper. As winter began, the class of '63 again began to move, and we engaged in the sale of circus tickets on a commission basis to raise funds for the Senior Scholarship Fund. By the end of the drive, we turned over $800.00 to that fund. As the school year progressed, we also attended other sports functions in New York City and had our traditional swimming party to end the year.

During our first two years of high school, the class of '63 has set aside funds and made plans to print the Quaker yearbook in their senior year without asking each class for donations.

Thus far, our class has provided an opportunity for each of its members to take responsibility in, as well as enjoy, our projects and events.

THE HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1964

Starting off "the best four years of our lives," the class of 1964 elected Bob Mygatt, Richie Bartoccini, Brenda Carlson, and Mary Buckner as its officers.

We cost the shaving cream industries hundreds of dollars by spending a wonderful Halloween at Mygatt's barn.

The Senior Play, "Charlie's Aunt," given in December, gave us the opportunity to throw a basketball-pizza party and later to enjoy the play.

Our money-making project, selling popcorn and candy at the Varsity and J.V. games, did not turn out as well as we had expected, because the high frequency of popcorn fights among the spectators left the gym a mess, and we were forbidden to sell any more popcorn.

In exchange for slaving over our books during midyears, we were rewarded a bumpy bus trip to Madison Square Garden to see a Pro-basketball game.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

Since 1953 Chappaqua has participated in the American Field Service program of sponsoring one or more foreign students for a school year in Chappaqua and sending one or more of our students to live with a foreign family for a summer. The A.F.S. is dependent upon the local community to find a foster family each year for the foreign student and to recommend local students for traveling abroad, but the final decision as to acceptance is made by the A.F.S. Students live as a member of a foreign family, sharing equally in the pleasures and duties of the home. The money for this program is raised annually by a benefit program in the community sponsored by the Lions Club.

American Field Service students are boys and girls between sixteen and eighteen years of age from any of some thirty different countries, carefully chosen for both personal and academic qualifications. The objective of the A.F.S. student exchange program is to promote international goodwill through a closer understanding of individuals from other countries.

In the year 1960-1961, Carolyn Curtiss and Kit Powers were the Chappaqua students who spent summers away from home under the A.F.S. program. During the school months, our town has been the happy host of Wendy Pye from Sydney, Australia.

Dear Wendy,

We are going to miss you when you leave us and return to "down under." We will miss the face that is always smiling and that Australian accent (yes, it is still delightfully Australian, not American!). Most of all, we will miss the "wacko" good times we have had together in and out of school.

We have loved showing you the American way of life, Wendy. Bowling, trampolining, ice-skating, roller-skating, and eating pizza are no longer mysteries to you. In our eagerness to present America to you, we have examined it more closely ourselves. You have opened our eyes to many things which we were so accustomed to that we had forgotten to be thankful for them. Your interest in us has made us look more closely at ourselves, our pastimes, our government, and our ideals. For this we will always be grateful. Thank you, Wendy.

Many of us have had long talks with you, and, although it seems as if you live half way around the world, we have discovered that we all think the same way. We hope that you have learned as much from us as we have learned from you.

"Fair dinkum," Wendy! You are no longer a stranger to us, even if you wear "jumpers" and "sand shoes" instead of sweaters and sneakers! When you came to us, we hardly knew where to find Australia on the map; it was just the place where Ava Gardner filmed her movie On The Beach. Thanks to you, it is much more now a place where people live and die, hope and despair, laugh and cry, and act and think as we do. Australia lives for us, Wendy. We hope that America will live in your mind too, and that you will think of us as often as we do you.

Sincerely,

The Class of 1961

Dear Students of Horace Greeley,

It was the day after our ship docked in New York that I was met by my American family and brought here to my new home in Chappaqua. As we drove along the highway, or parkway as I have since learned to call it, I could not help noticing how different the scenery was from the endless rows of shops and service stations which I had expected to find lined on either side of the road. You can imagine how delighted I was to see, instead, nothing but the wonderful, soft greens of the trees and grass just twenty miles from one of the largest cities in the world! The houses which came into view as we approached Chappaqua surprised me, too. In comparison to the typical brick, bungalow-style, suburban homes of Sydney, your stately, two-storied, wooden homes, set in the natural woodland surroundings, are rather as I imagine some English country estates to look like.

After my first lunch in Chappaqua, I came to school, and the first thing I knew, the car was surrounded by people, all of them wanting to say "hi" and "welcome." If I had felt any misgivings about starting at a new school in a new country, they were soon dispelled, because the minute I arrived, you made me feel completely at home. There are many small differences here, of course, which made my first few days at Horace Greeley a source of constant interest and surprise. Indeed, your magnificent gym with the push-button method of partitioning is still a novelty to my Australian sense of mechanics; Although I had been fairly well prepared, it was still strange to see girls wearing make-up to school, ordinary clothes rather than uniforms, and democracy in the form of a G.O. Council instead of silver-badged prefects! I had to remember that the staff are faculty, spare periods are study halls, form rooms are homerooms, that there are just four short minutes to dash from one class to the next, and that between breakfast and Z-lunch we all starve! These are some of the cute things about the United States I may remember, but I know that the overwhelming impression of Horace Greeley, Chappaqua, and America which I will carry back to Australia with me, is the spirit of warm-hearted friendliness of the American people.

A group of Australian A.F.S. students

I can remember how wonderful it felt to wake up and realize, "I am in Pakistan and yet 'at home'." I was living with the Mumtaz family in Karachi, Pakistan, under the American Field Service summer program. Everyone in the family could speak English fluently and was well acquainted with the West, yet I was living in a definitely Pakistani atmosphere filled with outward dignity and inward warmth. Although, like most Pakistani men, my father, or "abba," was not active in family life, his presence was always felt. Abba was a big man with quiet strength and a genuine, child-like laugh. My mother, or "ammi," was a typical Pakistani woman: guardian, hearer of sorrows, healer of wounds, organizer, boss of the servants, and prime worrier. I had three Pakistani sisters, Gulnar, who was nine, Naz, sixteen, and Nigar, eighteen. Gulnar was the most Westernized one in the whole family. She was very clever and always alert, quite a nine-year-old handful. Naz was a fiery girl with fierce personal and family loyalties. Nigar was a woman at eighteen. She had her father's quiet inner strength, and was a very sensitive, loving person.

Within this wonderful family atmosphere, I grew to know and love Pakistan. Karachi, my 'home town,' is in a desert area. From the air, Karachi looks brown, flat, and desolate, but to me it was a fascinating place. The center of the city is composed of various market places where you can be in the midst of the Karachi street scene. Vegetable venders and beggars raise their voices against the shouts of the crowd. Huge camels and tiny donkeys carry their burdens through the narrow streets. Ladies in lovely saris weave their way through the crowd into the cloth shops where eager merchants display bolt after bolt of brightly colored material. Street dust sifts onto brown skin while the bright clothes merge into the heat haze.

Outside Karachi, the life is very different. On the west lies the Indian Ocean where great shipyards receive cargoes from vessels that have been around the world. Not far from the busy shipyards, descendents of the original settlers of Karachi build primitive boats to fish the tidewaters. Herds of water buffalo graze near the evil-smelling slime which is called "Evening in Karachi" by the Pakistani teen-agers. To the east lies part of the great desert which almost surrounds Karachi. Somehow the people manage to live on the harsh scrub area with burning sun all summer and sudden flash floods in the fall. These people raise herds of hardy sheep, goats and donkeys—anything that can live on the barren land. Although they live as close to Karachi as Chappaqua is to New York, many of the desert dwellers have never seen the city.

Here I sit in Chappaqua, and Karachi is half-way across the world. Even so, the sights and feeling of that land are vivid in my mind. I am very grateful to A.F.S. for giving me the opportunity for such a wonderful summer, and I hope that next year's A.F.S. students will have a comparable experience. Someday I hope to be able to return to Karachi, but until that day, I will always remember the wonderful people who became my family there.

Oslo, Norway

Dear Karen-Eva,

Whenever I wear my Norwegian sweater, happy memories come back to me of sunny days by the sea, wind in my face on a mountain top, the crackling fire in our cabin, or goat-milk cheese. My experiences this summer will always be a part of me.

On departure from Montreal

When I sailed from Montreal on June ninth, I had no idea of what was really in store for me. Those ten days on the boat were unforgettable! Being with American kids from all over the country was half the experience, (and I was not seasick once)! We landed near Rotterdam and took a grueling, two-day train ride from Holland through Germany, Denmark, and Sweden to Norway. I remember how hard it was for me to get used to your "Midnight Sun" the first night in Norway. The sun sets around 11:00 P.M. and rises about 1:00 A.M.

I didn't come to you until half way through the summer, because I spent the first three weeks of my stay with the Hansen-Tangens in Kristiansand, on the southern coast of Norway. The last two weeks with them, we stayed at their coastal summer house, as you know. The weather was perfect, and we spent many happy days swimming, boating, and fishing off the rock shores.

Kristiansand

Summer house of my first family

Then I came to stay with you in Oslo. I remember how difficult that first night in the apartment was. Everything was so strange and new but it didn't take long for me to feel as if I really belonged. The birthday party you gave me after only being with you a few days said better than words that I had become one of the family.

My second family's apartment in Oslo

The two weeks we spent in the mountains were the dearest to me of the whole summer. I was so close to nature and peace when we went on those long mountain hikes, and so close to you all when we sat resting on the rocks, drinking coffee and eating cakes and cheese. (By the way, I finally lost the ten kilos I gained this summer.)

My last five days at Holuringen in the mountains with the ninety-five other Americans in Norway were wonderful days of relaxation and fun. We all grew so close so quickly that we stuck together like a family on the boat coming back. I made friendships that I'll never lose.

We had a farewell party the last night, and, even though there were tears in the eyes of many of us, we all knew we'd meet again, just as I know I'm coming back to Norway someday.

I wish I could thank you enough—all the Norwegians who were kind to me, my community friends who sponsored me, and the American Field Service in general. I know I learned things this summer I'll never forget: how all people are really the same; how relatively unimportant language is; what it really means to be an American. I think I'm very lucky; I have not one family, but three, not one country, but two.

My second family's mountain cabin

The General Organization is the legislative body which originates and passes laws pertaining to the student body and student government. The G.O. sponsors all non-academic school functions and activities. School-wide elections are held in the spring for the G.O. officers; the Pro-tem chairman is elected by the G.O. Council consisting of homeroom representatives.

This year the General Organization purchased a Victory Bell for school sport functions; sponsored a work day for the bleacher fund; held the G.O. Formal, "Winterlude"; and organized two student-teacher days. In collaboration with the Dad's Club, the G.O. sponsored a Career Day for the Juniors and Seniors.

The Judiciary is the judicial branch of the student government. It is composed of twelve members with two faculty advisors, and meets twice a week.

The duties of the Judiciary are three-fold: to try chronic violators of school rules and students who show a consistently poor attitude toward the school; to evaluate the school at large and recommend legislation to the G.O.; to set the moral tone of the school. In student trials, the emphasis is placed on helping, rather than punishing.

The Judiciary's principle activity this year has been the revision of the school constitution. The purpose was to better coordinate the three governmental organizations so as to eliminate rivalry and increase efficiency.

The G.O. Senate acts as a clearing house for all matters pertaining to the student body, and formulates the policies of the student government. The Senate is composed of the Executive Council of the General Organization, the presidents of each class, the presidents of the Service Club and the Judiciary, and the faculty advisors to the G.O.

NATION HONORS GREELEY

First Day Issue From Chappaqua

by Tom Curtis

The fact that something used can be more valuable than something new is being proved today, February 3, with the Horace Greeley Commemorative stamp which is being cancelled in Chappaqua. Collectors and dealers from all over the country are here today for the first day of issue, and the rest of the country cannot issue the stamp until tomorrow.

Mr. James Curcio, Assistant Postmaster, has employed a large work force to take care of all the mailed in requests for first day of issue cachets. Requests that were postmarked prior to January 30, 1961, have been processed. All these requests are being stamped today with a first day of issue cancellation which reads 9:00 a.m., and all cancellations today will bear a 9:00 a.m. cancellation time.

First day of issue cancelled cachets are procured by sending the request and remittance to the postmaster of the town where the issue originates. A self-addressed envelope containing a backing of cardboard to strengthen the envelope and an endorsement giving a description of the stamp desired must be enclosed with the request. Local post offices post notices of the new stamps to be issued.

Several organizations in the Chappaqua area have made it unnecessary to write to, or wait at, the Post Office for first day cancellations. The Chappaqua Lions Club had covers printed and filled requests for stamps. The Fleetwood Cover Service, run by Mr. Peck, in Pleasantville also sells first day cachets.

A full-face portrait of Horace Greeley is vertically arranged and printed in maroon. Like the rest of the "Famous American Series," of which it is a member, it is printed in sheets of seventy instead of fifty. One hundred and twenty million of these stamps will be printed in the initial printing. The portrait of Mr. Greeley used for the stamp is from a steel engraving of a Matthew Brady photograph of Mr. Greeley in the Clendenin collection, temporarily housed at the Robert E. Bell School.

A committee of Chappaqua citizens was established several months ago, and communications were sent to Washington stating the need for a Horace Greeley stamp. The Lions Club and the town officials were instrumental in getting things started. Mr. James Curcio, Mrs. Merrill Brown, Mrs. James C. Runyon, Mrs. Edwin Van Brunt, Mr. Eugene Sheridan and Dr. Charles Cow-

Home Sought For Mementoes Of Famous Tribune Editor

by David O'Neil

The Robert E. Bell School houses a collection of Greeleyana that would be welcomed by any museum; but the relics now crowd the School Superintendent's office. Many of the articles which compose this collection are priceless.

The collection includes Horace Greeley's desk from the New York TRIBUNE, and the chair in which he sat. A bookshelf holds many of his favorite volumes, and even his cradle is on display. An old spinning wheel and a pump handle stand next to the wooden type case (see drawing) Greeley used when he was an apprentice printer in Vermont. Since generally type is no longer set by hand, these type cases are quite rare.

The desk contains a vast collection of Greeley's papers, including letters he wrote, and copies and clippings of some of his articles. A lack of funds has left these papers unprotected and they show signs of falling apart. In one drawer of the desk lies a thirty-eight star flag, also deteriorating with age. Political cartoons, deeds, bonds and etchings belonging to Greeley are kept in the desk, but all of these things should be put under glass as soon as possible.

A bust of the editor and his statuette stand on top of the desk, near the many photographs and paintings on the walls. A complete history of Greeley's farm in Chappaqua, with map and pictures, is hung nearby. All types of commemorative literature and clippings about Greeley are stored in the desk and the bookshelves.

A very unique memento of Greeley's death lies on the desk. Because of the editor's contributions to New York City and its culture, the New York Common Council prepared a lavish book in memoriam. Each page is painstakingly Chappaqua is celebrating the 150th anniversity of the birthday of Horace Greeley, famous printer, editor, author and statesman. He was a resident of this hamlet from 1855 to 1872.

The U.S. Post Office Department has authorized the Chappaqua Post Office to issue first day 4 cent commemorative Horace Greeley stamps in the Famous American series. A special substation for hand stamping of cancellations has been set up in the lobby of the Horace Greeley High School auditorium. Special covers have been prepared by the Chappaqua Lions Club and are also available .

A memorial program will be presented in the Horace Greeley auditorium today at 11:00 a.m. Postmaster General J. Edward Day, making his first public appearance outside of Washington, D.C., in his new official capacity, will speak and present autographed albums of stamps to distinguished guests. Governor Nelson Rockefeller, U.S. Senators Javitts and Keating, and Congressmen Dooley and Barry have been invited to attend. The public is cordially invited to be present at this important event.

An exhibit of Greeleyana from the Greeley Estate collection, and other interesting pictures, papers, books and articles relating to his era, loaned by residents of Chappaqua and the surrounding area, is being displayed in the kitchen of the Horace Greeley House, King St., one time home of the famous American. Hours: Friday, February 3 and Saturday, February 4 from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Admission fee, 25 cents. The proceeds will be used to start a fund for proper storage and display of this historical material, so intimately related to this community.

Local Citizens Lend Items for Display

Among the many items which will be displayed at the Old Greeley House on February 3 and 4 are some which have been loaned by Westchester residents for the occasion.

Mr. Eugene V. Gedney has a letter which Mr. Greeley wrote requesting tickets to the Republican Convention of 1864.

A letter written to Mr. Greeley by Bronson Alcott, father of Louisa May Alcott, has been made available by Mrs. Paul Lang.

Mrs. Bertram Carmer (the former Dorothy Bishoff) of White Plains has loaned a Bulletin from the election campaign of 1872. Mrs. Carmer's father was a neighbor of the Greeleys.

READING CLUB

C. Miller, E. Benjamin, B. Williamson, Mr. Price, B. Kossack

Mr. Price's Reading Club, consisting of six members, meets regularly every Tuesday, eighth period. Every month or so each member submits a book he would like the group to read, and during the weeks that follow, one of these books is read. Approximately one book is read each week, though, if a book is difficult or extremely interesting, two, or even three, weeks may be spent discussing and reading it.

After each individual has commenced reading a book, discussion begins on the purpose, major points, characters, or any symbolism in the story. Occasionally one person will make up a list of questions which the other members will try to answer. At other times Mr. Price will give us "food for thought."

Some of the books that have been read by the group this year have been: The Beau, by William Faulkner; Catcher in the Rye, by J. P. Salinger; Turn of the Screw, by Henry James; Fathers and Sons, by Ivan Turgenev; Lord Jim, by Joseph Conrad; and Metamorphis by Kaffa. We have also read, and listened to records, of Medea, and have discussed and read a number of selections of poetry, Emily Dickenson's being outstanding.

The organization serves the school through its tutoring program, under which students who desire help in any subject meet with a member of the society during study halls. This year field trips and speaker-led discussion groups are being considered.

CHEERLEADING

MISS WAGNER
Advisor

The purpose of the cheerleading squad is to promote school spirit and good sportsmanship in both the student body and the team for which it cheers. Cheerleading provides the necessary link between the players and the spectators. A cheerleader must set standards of conduct and behavior, be an example of these standards, and at all times serve as a good and enthusiastic representative of her school. Although our teams were not always winning, this year's cheerleaders have raised an all time high level of school spirit and enthusiasm on the part of the community and the student body.

This year the hockey teams finally had a wonderful practice field, and this, plus their fighting spirit, led to a very successful season. Under the excellent coaching of Miss Irwin, the victory bell rang often, and the First Team had an undefeated season. In spite of hard work, frustrations, and sore muscles, the girls had fun and continued to uphold the excellent Horace Greeley hockey tradition.

The Freshman hockey teams worked hard this year. Night after night, the teams practiced until dusk, limping home with aching legs, ready for hot-water foot baths. In their games, with Pleasantville, Rye, Pelham, and Bronxville, they gained much experience and had a wonderful time with the excellent coaching of Miss Green.

HOCKEY PLAYDAY

Cheers could be heard on the girls' hockey fields. A game between the winning Orange and Blue intramural teams, with Miss Wagner and Miss Green as coaches, was being played. The teams tied with no score.

Much spirit has been added to the intramural program with the addition of this day. Although intramural credit is given only to those who attend, an extra point is awarded if a player's league wins.

STUYVESANT TEAMS

KNEELING: J. Elliott, C. Curtiss, L. Timme, A. Ferris. STANDING: B. McCoy, E. Hainline, Miss Irwin, L. Spade, C. Chamberlain.

The skills of the Horace Greeley players were proved at the Stuyvesant Playday at Manhattanville College when Greeley won seven out of the twenty-two possible positions. The girls honored with first team positions were Lonnie Timme, Justine Elliott, and Carolyn Curtiss. Players on the second team were Linda Spade, Claire Chamberlain, Ellen Hainline, and Anne Ferris. Barbara McCoy made honorable mention. None of this would have been possible, however, without the help, coaching, and encouragement of Miss Irwin.

After the usual tryouts, the volleyball honor squads, chosen in November, began to put in many hours of stiff practice under the leadership of Miss Wagner. Although the four games played, Rye, Pelham, White Plains and Edgemont, were not all successful, the girls had an opportunity to become acquainted with the techniques of the other schools. Both teams beat Pelham and lost to Rye, White Plains, and Edgemont.

The first team lost to Bronxville, and the second team to White Plains. The third team had an undefeated season. With Miss Irwin's assistance and the wonderful spirit of every girl, the teams had a lot of fun, made new friends, and learned more about basketball.

With Miss Green as coach, the Freshman teams played Pleasantville, and Fox Lane. The first team won both of their games and the second team lost to Fox Lane and won both of their games with Pleasantville. The girls gained much experience with the skills of basketball and are ready to play again next winter.

The Girls' Leader Corps acts as a policy-making organization for the girls' physical education department. The members are chosen on the basis of a written exam on the rules of the various sports and on a character rating which is given to the girls who pass the exam. Their duties include refereeing intramural games, taking care of equipment, helping administer practical tests, running play days, and entertaining visiting schools.

This year the girls sold refreshments at the All-Star Game and several home basketball games in order to raise money for their jackets. They also sold "Horace," a little elephant mascot which many of the girls used for ring holders.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Horace Greeley opened its season at Ossining with a 33 to 26 loss. With several long running and passing gains by Laurie Beeson and newcomer Jeff Garberson, and two Bogart touchdown plunges, Greeley displayed a fine offensive machine. The turning point came in the second quarter with three Ossining touchdowns, including an eighty yard touchdown on a kickoff return. This was a hard fought game and a tough loss.

Greeley made a fine showing despite a 25-6 deficit to a Rye team that had won twenty-seven consecutive games. In the second half the Quakers launched several drives spearheaded by Co-Captain Dick Prezzano, Jim Lambert, and John Bogart. Dick Adelman set up the Greeley touchdown in the fourth quarter with a recovery of a fumble on Rye's twenty-eight yard line. Five plays later Don Vredenburgh scored off tackle from the five yard line. The 25-6 score was commendable against such a strong football power as Rye.

In the most exciting game of the season Greeley handed Carmel her first defeat in thirty-six games. Plagued by fumbles the Quakers went in to the fourth quarter behind 31-19. Then concentrating on drives through the more vulnerable left side of the Carmel line, Greeley staged two touchdown drives, the second one culminated in a thirty-five yard run by Jim Lambert, and a plunge conversion by Dick Prezzano. With a minute and a half left George Apap scored his fifth touchdown of the day for Carmel, but it was too late. Don Vredenburgh accounted for three touchdowns and Dick Prezzano for two.

In the first home game of the season Greeley was routed 47-13 by a far superior Lakeland team that averaged 200 pounds from tackle to tackle and went on to an undefeated season. Don Vredenburgh scored in the first and fourth quarters for Greeley.

The Quakers, outsized again, lost 32-9 to Tuckahoe. Greeley did all its scoring in the first quarter with a tackle of a Tuckahoe halfback in the end zone for a safety by John Campbell and a forty-eight yard touchdown run by Jeff Garberson. After acquiring an early 9-0 lead, the Quakers were overpowered for the rest of the game.

Greeley bounced back with a 7-6 victory over Pleasantville. The Quakers scored in the second quarter on a plunge by Quarterback Byron Brooks and a conversion run by Jim Lambert. Aside from this and Lambert passes to John Campbell and Laurie Beeson there was little offense on either side and play was concentrated within thirty yards of midfield. Outstanding on defense were Jim Souder who dumped several Pleasantville backs for losses and Co-Captain Terry Lynch who intercepted a pass to thwart a Pleasantville drive. Pleasantville scored in the fourth quarter but the place kick conversion was wide and Greeley won.

In the final game of the season Greeley lost to a very powerful Fox Lane team 20-7. Byron Brooks scored the Quaker touchdown on a quarterback sneak and Jim Lambert converted on a run. Saying valedictories for Horace Greeley were Co-Captains Terry Lynch and Dick Prezzano, John and Bob Campbell, Byron Books, Ed Chapman, Jim Souder, Alan Cole, Richie Adelman, Brent Carlson, Rusty Hitchcock, Bill Delaney and Bob Matthews.

Greeley had a young team this year, with Juniors Don Vredenburgh, Jim Lambert, Doug Burrill, Laurie Beeson, Hal Ofstie, Dave Sonnemann and Rick Bridgman, and Sophomores Bruce Campbell and John Bogart, all seeing a lot of action. Under the fine direction of Coach Mark Whittleton and Assistant Ted Gale this team gained valuable experience and showed the potential for a winning season next year.

Outstanding in the backfield were halfbacks Tim McCarthy and John Dingwall who each scored 20 or more points and quarterback Kent DeFelice. Stalwarts on the line were Gary Kaneshiro, Sam Carrier and John Crowley. The fine Junior Variety record indicates a bright future for Greeley football.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

The Freshman Football Team had a successful 3-1 season. Under the guidance of Coach Don Huszar this team gained valuable experience and showed good potential for the future. The finest effort by this team was in the Fox Lane game where the team rebounded from a 13-0 half time deficit to win 14-13 in the last minutes of the game. Outstanding players included halfback Randy Dygert, fullback William Holden, and guard Bob Mygatt.

VARSITY SOCCER

The Horace Greeley Soccer Team, in only its second year of existence and under the guidance of Coach Carl Hall, won 7 games and lost 1 in league play to win the N.W.I.L. Soccer Championship. Over all Greeley won 9 and lost 4, and added to last year's 5-3 record, this gives the Quaker booters a lifetime record of 14 and 7. For the first time, Greeley had home matches and won all four.

This year's team was sparked by many returning lettermen. They included insides Charlie Hurd and Bill Roberts, two ball players very skilled in the various kicks used in soccer, and left inside Bob Lewis who set up many goals with his booming cross kicks. These three boys accounted for nearly two-thirds of Greeley's goals. Alternating center forwards Tom Curtis and Bob Christenson, alternating right wings Mike McGill and David Tucker, and Sophomores Dawson Gilbert and Mack Maloney also contributed to Greeley's scoring punch, and all of them scored at least once.

Halfbacks John Kraemer, Art Moss, Tom Heyes, and Jim Thomason outdid all rival halfbacks in their ability to keep the ball on the opposing team's half of the field. Of special note are Art Moss's splendid heading of the ball and John Kraemer's long boots.

Fullbacks Riddy Semple and Pete Whitney, aided by Todd Caso and Wes Townsend, were adept at place kicks from the goal mouth and prevented many enemy drives from reaching the goal, tended by all-county Nellie Jantzen. Sophomore Jantzen followed in Jim Bushini's footsteps, who was all county goalie for Greeley last year, and Jantzen had seven shut-outs and allowed an average of only 2.07 points a game.

The most rewarding victories for the Quakers were in non-league games at Scardale and Sleepy Hollow. In the first game of the season Greeley beat Scarsdale, a school where soccer rivals football as the main fall sport, by a score of 4 to 2. Against Sleepy Hollow, one of the best teams in the county, Greeley rebounded from a 4-0 half time deficit to win its most exciting game of the season 6-5.

The soccer team's success throughout the season was due to scrappy play that saw Greeley men usually win the race to the ball, superior kicking, heading and goal tending skills, and the extremely offensive attitude stressed by Coach Hall that had the whole team, including the fullbacks and the goalie, offensive minded. It was a team effort that led to the N.W.I.L. championship, but special credit is due to Bill Roberts and Nelson Jantzen who won berths on the first string all-county soccer team, Charlie Hurd who made the second team, and Jon Kraemer who received honorable mention.

The Junior Varsity Soccer Team, in its first year of existence, won 1, lost 1, and tied 2. The Jayvee's had a tough season because most of the schools which have J.V. soccer teams have been playing soccer for several years. Some of those showing promise for next year's soccer team were forwards Dawson Gilbert, Mack Maloney, Phil Kirk, Dave Moodie, Bruce Piper and Rusty Schipa, backs Bob Coy, Harry Lasker, Colby Leydon, Hank Sillcocks, and Jim Bray; and goalies Hans Kasten and Mike Perrault.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Horace Greeley basketball team, under the direction of Coach Carl Hall, had an overall record of eight wins and nine losses. In the NWIL Greeley won six and lost six for a third place tie with Fox Lane.

The season opened with a one-sided victory over Hendrick Hudson and a twenty-four point effort by Don Vredenburgh. At this time local papers called Greeley "the team to beat" in the NWIL. Between two losses to a strong Rye team, Greeley beat Pleasantville and the defending NWIL champion, Fox Lane, in the league opener. In the next four games, Greeley won decisive victories over Briarcliff and Somers, while losing by close scores to John Jay and Lakeland.

Unfortunately, Greeley, still in the race for the league championship, and tied for second place with John Jay with three wins and two losses behind unbeaten Yorktown, lost four players for training violations. It took several games for the team to regain its earlier form. Successive losses to Yorktown, Fox Lane, and John Jay were followed by victories over Briarcliff, Somers, and Lakeland. Against Somers, the Quakers scored eighty points, their high for the season. The season ended with losses to Ossining and the champion Yorktown team that went undefeated in twelve league games.

This year's team was composed of juniors and one sophomore, Nelson Jantzen; next year, with most of these boys returning, we hope to have an experienced and winning squad. Greeley's leading rebounders this year were Dave Sonnemann, Clint Savage, and Doug Burrill. Outstanding on the defense were Don Vredenburgh and Nelson Jantzen. Don Vredenburgh was the leading scorer.

Special honors go to Dave Sonnemann and Don Vredenburgh who were selected for the NWIL All-Star first and second teams, respectively. Also, Greeley was well represented in the NWIL All-Star Game by Dave Sonnemann, Don Vredenburgh, and Nelson Jantzen, who aided in the South's 60-49 victory over the North, and in the foul shooting contest by Harold Ofstie, who was a close runner-up.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM

We regret that the team picture has been omitted. The following boys were members of the outstanding J.V. basketball team, which was coached by Mr. Don Huszar this year:

Brent Cleland
Kent Defelice
Alan Duncan
Alan Forsythe
Dawson Gilbert

Hans Kasten
Mac Maloney
Bill Moss
Ed Orser
Bruce Piper

The Horace Greeley Junior Varsity Basketball Team, led this year by Coach Don Huszar, won the J.V. NWIL championship for the second year in a row.

After a mediocre start with four wins and four losses, the J.V.s, with a new defense and more team effort, won four consecutive league victories and went on to a season record of two wins and six losses, including a 9-3 record in the NWIL. The fine rebounding of Ed Orser, Al Forsythe, and Brent Cleland was one of the main contributing factors in the team's success.

WRESTLING

The Horace Greeley Wrestling Team had a very successful season under Coach Ted Gale with a match record of twelve wins and five losses.

The season started well with three victories: 24-17 and 27-14 over Hastings and 22-19 over Sleepy Hollow. Jim Souder's clutch pin in the unlimited weight category decided the first match with Hastings. After a 24-15 loss to the NWIL champs of Fox Lane, Greeley had a streak of four victories: 30-18 over John Jay, 35-6 over Dobbs Ferry, 41-6 over Somers, and 23-12 over Lakeland. In the last of these four matches, Terry Lynch of the 168 lb. class lost his first match after seven consecutive wins.

Three losses followed: 21-18 to Hendrich Hudson, 27-18 to Yorktown, and 22-20 to Fox Lane. The loss to the Foxes was even closer than the score indicates because of a disputed stalling call that cost Tim McCarthy a decision loss by one point.

The Quakers rebounded for five crushing triumphs, 46-3 over Ossining, 39-10 over Somers, 34-8 over Lakeland, and 31-2 over Dobbs Ferry, before a final closing loss 22-21 to Yorktown.

Special honor goes to boys with ranking positions in the Section I Wrestling Tournament: Sam Carrier of the 141 lb. weight class finished third, Ed Chapman of the 157 lb. class finished third, Bruce Campbell, 183 lb. class finished fourth, and Jim Souder of the unlimited classification finished fourth. Before the last match Terry Lynch and Ed Chapman were elected this season's co-captains.

VARSITY BASEBALL

The Horace Greeley Baseball Team, coached by Mr. Ted Gale, has, at the time of this writing, won no games and lost three. Due to rain and snow many practices and several games were rained out.

In the opener, Greeley lost 6-2 to Alexander Hamilton. Dave Sonnemann pitched four fine innings and was relieved by Todd Caso.

Then Greeley lost a 1-0 decision to the powerful Rye team on a squeeze play in the seventh inning. Pete Whitney pitched the distance for Greeley.

In each of the first two games Greeley was one-hitted, but the Greeley offense began to click against John Jay. Pitcher Dave Sonnemann gave Greeley an early lead with a three-run homer which landed in the brook. However, the hard-hitting John Jay team hit two homers of their own and went on to win 11-3.

Against Briarcliff, Greeley had several scoring threats but was behind 1-0 after three and one-half innings when the game was called for rain. Pete Whitney did the pitching.

Greeley got off to a slow start but began hitting against John Jay and Briarcliff. In the infield were Bob Konrad 1B., Bob Lewis 2B., Tex Roberts SS., and Dick "Johnny Weissmuller" Prezzano 3B. In the outfield are Don Vredenburgh LF., leading hitter—Jeff Garberson CF, and Kent Defelice RF. The pitching staff includes Sonnemann, Whitney, Caso, and Garberson, all right handers. Jim Lambert is the catcher.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASEBALL

With a strong defense and good pitching, Coach Don Huszar's J.V. Baseball team looks forward to a good season. At the time of this writing, the J.V.'s have played one game which ended in a 3-2 victory over John Jay. Don Mulhare and Chuck Souder are on the pitching staff and backed up McCosh when he pitched a five-hitter in the John Jay game. The infield includes Dave Haight 1B, Bain Turner SS, and Randy Dygert 3B. Hans Kastens LF, Nelson Jantzen CF, and Al Duncan RF are in the outfield. Bob Mygatt and Bob Borman are the catchers.
